To whom it may concern,

The European Association for the Preservation and Promotion of Jewish Culture and Heritage (AEPJ) supports the preservation, appreciation and promotion of Jewish culture and Jewish heritage in Europe. The Association also strives to encourage Jewish sites to be open to the general public.

The AEPJ is formed by 22 organisations: B'nai B'rith Europe, CoopCulture, Diputació de Lleida, the Federation of Jewish Communities in the Czech Republic (FJC), the Haggadah Association, Israeli House, the Izmir Project, JECPJ France, the Jewish Community of Zagreb, the Jewish Cultural Heritage Route Association, the Lithuanian Jewish Community, the Ministry of Culture and Tourism Azerbaijan, Patronat Call de Girona, Red de Juderías de España - Caminos de Sefarad, Rede de Judiarias de Portugal, the Shtetl Routes, the Tarbut Sighet Foundation, The Together Plan, Tikun, the Unione delle Comunità Ebraiche Italiane, the Waddesdon Manor and World Jewish Travel.

We hereby confirm our support for the Jew'els of Spain project, which we firmly believe can be a privileged tool to promote the European Jewish legacy, the dialogue between cultures and a better understanding of Sephardic history. A history of exchanges, humanity and an abundance of mutual enrichment and co-creation.

We hope that Jew'els of Spain can be developed soon for the good of all,

Sincerely yours,

François Moyse,
AEPJ President
